Salt Lake City, - - Utah.

THURSDAY, - - - AUGUST 20, 1885.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

SEE NOTICE "Lost" in special column.

THE TWENTIETH warders will make the walking ring at the Lake to-day.

T. R. JONES received August 18th two cars Germania bullion. $5,805.00.

JAMES WATSON, the genial, was down from the Pen yesterday on business.

THE STORE recently occupied by Louis Kelsey has been opened by Hill & Haslam.

A CERTIFICATE of incorporation was yesterday issued to the Idaho Land and Cattle Company.

THE D. & R. G. Park does much to relieve the eye of the weary traveler during the wait at the station.

McCONNELL & Co. yesterday received one car Hanover bullion, $2,450; Crescent ore, $2,500; value, $4,950.

THE CHURCH and other employees of the Eagle House had an enjoyable time at Calder's Farm last evening, through the invitation of Mr. Teasdale.

THE ACTOR Carleton, who suicided in New York yesterday, is probably the dramatic writer and actor, and not the opera singer W. T. Carleton.

JOHN WATSON, the convict who recently escaped from the Penitentiary, has been captured. He had progressed as far as Riverton, Sevier County.

M. H. LIPMAN will possibly be a complainant to-day against S. Benjamin, charging him with obtaining goods under false pretenses. Benjamin is now in jail.

THE CHICAGO, Milwaukee & St. Paul have issued small satin plaques destined for places in crazy quilts. The squares are handsomely finished and bear merely the name of the rail road in gay colors.

DYER has received another lot of the August 15th number of Harpers Weekly, containing interesting and valuable illustrations of the scenes and incidents of General Grant's death and burial. It contains a large illustrated supplement.

MR. THOMAS HILL informs us that City Creek canyon is full of campers and that shooting at squirrels continues carelessly and indiscriminately. Sportsmen should take heed from the recent accident in City Creek, and be careful where they aim.

MOTHER PARSONS has retired to obscurity for the space of twenty-five days, due to the fact that she was proven guilty of drunkenness, disturbing the peace and destroying property, and had not the necessary funds to liquidate the amount assessed against her.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS go out to Mr. and Mrs. Kuehn, an eight pound girl, born Tuesday morning, in the occasion. The lady, who is probably better known as Miss Edith Clawson, from her decided stage abilities and experience, is progressing favorably.

THE BUSINESS inspectors recently appointed have already notified hundreds of people to clean up. They will go over the ground recently traversed again at the expiration of the time given, when, unless their orders have been respected, there will be a hoil like unto the D. & R. G. fog horn.

A CROWD of observers assembled at the store to be occupied by Levisberg & Co. last evening and expressed their admiration at the handsome cherry set of tables, counters and fixtures which were being unloaded in front of the place. The outfit was selected by a party who had been during his recent trip to New York.

HILL & HASLAM is the title of a new firm which has opened out on Market Row in the old Sanders stand. The gentlemen comprising the firm are well known from being proprietors of a store in the Sixteenth Ward, and also from being members of the brass band of that ward; they have secured a good stand up town and should do a fair proportion of the business along the row.

THE ENTERTAINING in Ogden concerning the Chinese continues unabated. A letter received from a resident expresses grave fears as to the outcome of the present hubbub, and his regret at the disorderly, hoodlum-like meeting of Tuesday evening. "Judge," he writes, "I don't see nothing to commend himself to an intelligent public, his language during the discourse being such as to impress one with the most supreme disgust for the subject and the speaker."

FOR THE benefit of the gushing idiot who has the misfortune to reside over the local columns of an evening sheet, we will state that in what are known as mild cases of diphtheria, nine out of every ten recover; of the more malignant cases nine out of every ten die. This has been proven by competent observers, and it is quite possible that the man who does not know an opium pipe from a frying pan will be unable to understand the difference.

A CORPSE of gentlemen connected with the new Provo Opera House were in town yesterday and certainly doing transactions for the temple of the drama accepted and ordered shipped to-day an elegant upright-grand Harman piano, which had been specially selected for them by Mr. Krouse from the large stock of instruments handled by Calder. The instrument is certainly a beauty, both in tone and finish, and our southern friends will soon have the pleasure of seeing and hearing it in its new position.

THE RACES To-day. Following are the entries for the three-quarter mile dash, which opens the programme of to-day at the Driving Park:

Alexander Grant enters b s Davis Vandell.

S. N. Evans enters b s Tohe.

G. F. Nelson enters b s Norrell Pete.

George Gouves enters b s Beauregard.

Horses will be called at 1:50 p. m. sharp.

"The" Place of Beverages. The Occidental bar, where the choicest of wines, liquors and beers are manipulated in the most tempting fashion by experienced proprietors. The family trade and private parties supplied. Best of California and imported wines and fragrant claret always in stock.

OFF TO THE PEN.

Judge Zane Decides in Favor of the Commissioner.

DEPARTING WITH ECLAT.

Varian and McKay's Victory Sourced by a Little Addenda Decision from the Judge.

Judge Zane yesterday morning delivered his decision in the Snell habas corpus matter, sustaining the demurrer to the petition and remanding Miss Snell to the custody of the Marshal. The main points of the decision which sets at rest the disputed question whether the Commissioner has the power to commit for contempt, are as follows:

The act of Congress creating United States Commissioners for this Territory. The Judge thought, intended that the Commissioners should have the same powers as justices of the peace or magistrates, in sitting on Territorial cases, and that those powers should be extended to United States cases. A Commissioner, he held, is not like a referee, or one who is appointed to take the testimony and merely to report to the Court, but he possesses the high functions of a Court. "There is a reason, I think," said the Judge, "why a Commissioner should possess the power to make his witnesses answer the questions, and it is the duty of government, when it gives him the power to summon witnesses, also to give him power to bring them in; and if, when they get there, they are unwilling to testify, they should be made to answer all questions, and this as much for the protection of the defendant as for the purposes of the prosecution; because witnesses are of as much importance to one as to the other. It is, therefore, right both for the prisoner and the government that all the power the law confers should be brought to bear on the witness at once. It would clearly be a great wrong to a prisoner who had to be committed to jail, merely because a witness did not choose to open his mouth, and it would be just as much a wrong against the government, if a prisoner escaped justice by a witness' silence."

The Commissioner has all the power in these preliminary examinations that a Justice of the Peace of this Territory has in a preliminary examination.

It is true, that in the act of Congress, the word "State" is used. But the act appointing Commissioners of the Supreme Court of the Territory, gives them all the powers possessed by a Commissioner of circuit courts in a State, and these Commissioners have the power to commit. The law varies in various states, but the intention was evidently to resort to the authority of the local magistrates, so that the prevailing law in the Territory should be the one governing the case. I am of the opinion that the Commissioner has power to commit for contempt and that the demurrer to the petition should be sustained.

Although the decision gave the victory to the prosecution and the Commissioner, Mr. Varian hardly seemed to be yet satisfied. He arose, and in a hesitating manner, said he had referred in his argument to the fact that as the Territorial law now existed, two classes of committing magistrates were created—a Justice of the Peace and a Judge of the District Court. He said, like, if possible, to tear his honor's opinion as to whether a Commissioner's powers to commit were limited to those of a justice or of a judge. (The drift of this anxious remark will be evident when it is remembered that a justice only has power to sentence to one day's imprisonment and impose a fine of $100; whereas a judge has power to sentence to imprisonment "until the questions shall be answered"—as in the case of Miss Starkey, now imprisoned—and to impose a fine much heavier than $100, if, indeed, it is limited at all.)

The Judge considered for a moment, and then said he thought the powers of the Commissioner would be no more extensive than those enjoyed by a Justice of the peace, whereas Mr. Varian appeared slightly disconcerted, and Mr. Kirkpatrick's face wore the faintest semblance of a smile.

At 11 o'clock Miss Snell rode out to the Pen with Deputy Vandercook, in a handsome buggy, behind a dashing speedster called at the Idaho store for "her things," and as she departed she called out to a Herald reporter, who stood near, "It isn't often that I get a ride like this." Her one day will be up, this morning at 11, and the fine will be paid.

HILL & HASLAM, Fresh Green Groceries every morning.

How to Consult Dr. Foote, Sen., by Mail.

Dr. Foote, Senior, author of "Plain Home Talk," "Medical Common Sense," etc., etc., would say to those who would like to consult him by mail that they can have a list of questions and a circular of gratuitous advice by addressing Box 414, Salt Lake City. The doctor has arranged to have such information supplied in this way to save time. Receiving such printed matter the correspondent can describe his or her case fully and direct to the doctor in New York. Dr. Foote is successfully treating all forms of chronic diseases, a specialty to which he has devoted thirty years of study and practice. Evidence of his success can also be had by addressing Box 414, as above, but all letters of consultation and orders for remedies should be addressed to Dr. E. B. Foote, Sen., 125 Lexington Avenue, New York City, N. Y. Consultation free.

An advertisement of Dr. Foote, Sr., in the Sunday and Wednesday editions deserves attention.

WORLD OF SPORTS.

The Races To-day—Baseball—On the Colorado Circuit.

This afternoon the races at the Driving Park, advertised for some time past, will occur. The horses will be called at 10 minutes to 2, and the first race will come off punctually at 2 o'clock. Everything will be pushed with promptness, system and dispatch.

The Ogden baseball team are unable to come down this week, but have signified their willingness to play any day that may be set during the week following. West, captain of the Reds, says the public may stand assured of a good game next week. The Ogden men have to be paid fair wages for each man, besides expenses of the trip, so it is trusted that the baseball fraternity will turn out in force.

In the neighboring circuit, the base ball fever continues to rage without any cessation; on Sunday last 500 people, the largest audience, the Denver News claims, were turned out at a base ball game west of St. Louis, assembled in Denver to witness the second game between the nine of that city and the Leavenworths. The Denver won by a score of 2 to 0.

The Leadvilles were again worsted in Pueblo by the Pastimes last Saturday and Sunday, the scores being 4 to 1 and 9 to 5; the Leadvilles, however, have reformed themselves the News states, by adding the "dynamite battery" of the Leavenworths—Sullivan and O'Donnell—to their team, paying them $50 a month each more than they were receiving.

The big races in September promise to be the heaviest turf attraction ever presented in Utah.

Since the above was written the following facts have been furnished us:

In another column will be found a challenge from Hebe West to the Ogden Athletics. It has been brought about the following occurrence: On Tuesday West sent Tom Little to Ogden to make arrangements for a game for to-morrow or Saturday, and when he left Ogden it was with the understanding that the Athletics would come for $2.50 each and all expenses. Last evening, however, the Ogden telegraphed that they would not come for less than $3 each and expenses. They were offered 30 per cent of the gate receipts, which was also declined, with the remark that nothing less than $3 and expenses would satisfy them, and further that some of the members did not care to come any more. West did not feel justified in submitting to this demand, hence the challenge. On a former occasion, the Athletics had only enjoyed a fare at the Willard City boys who came down with the Ogden, and did everything he could to make things satisfactory and pleasant for the visitors. Baseball prices seem to fluctuate considerably in the Junction City.

The Spring Tooth Decision. A reporter of THE HERALD, yesterday, called at the Howard Seabra Company's, Grant, Odell & Co., Geo. A. Lowe and Isaac Lyon, to learn whether the big legal decision in Michigan (recorded in yesterday's HERALD), to the effect that all farmers using spring-tooth harrows must pay a royalty to the patentee, would reach to this Territory. From all the firms it was learned that the spring-tooth harrows had only enjoyed a high sale here, and Mr. Lowe thinks there are not more than 150 in the Territory at present. The decision, therefore, will have no material effect in Utah.

The Park City Contest. The board of canvassers, by dint of steady work, got down to counties commencing with "S" yesterday. Summit County will come up the first thing this morning, and it has been arranged with Mr. Aldredge that the question of the frauds at the Park City polls shall be considered at 10 o'clock. Mr. Eldredge will be present with an attorney. The votes cast for O. F. Whitney as Territorial Superintendent of Schools, were laid aside for the present with some other matters, about which there is a question. This office, it will be remembered, is claimed by the Governor to be appointive with him, and this view was recently sustained by the attorney-general.

Battered a Chinaman. William Breatt was arrested yesterday, on complaint of a Chinese laundryman named Yee Hop, who claimed that Breatt had assaulted him. The case came up in the Police Court at 2 p. m., when Yee and another Chinaman were present as witnesses against the accused. The gentlemen from the Flowery Kingdom claimed that Yee had called upon Breatt for a dollar that was due for services rendered in purifying Breatt's linen, when the latter let out his strong right arm and planted his fist square on the Chinaman's high cheek bone, and besides that had applied some very uncomplimentary epithets to him. Hop immediately made his way to the Police Court, and strange to say without Judge Lomax. Breatt denied the story in toto, as also did a feminine, who, when not his wife, but their relations were just the same as though she was.

In reviewing the testimony in the case, however, Judge Spiers concluded that Breatt had been guilty of an assault, and Chief Clerk Pyper was instructed to place $7.50 against him.

Challenge to the Athletics. To Sam Browning, Captain of the Athletic Baseball Club, Ogden.

I hereby challenge you to a match game of baseball for a purse of $50, to take place on Washington Square, this city, on Friday, August 28th.

HANS WEST, Captain Salt Lake nine.

Mischief is Wrought by bad cooking, tough meats, late hours, business worries, irregular lives, sour dispositions, evil digestion and impure blood. Much of this mischief can be overcome by the use of Brown's Iron Bitters—the best tonic ever made. Mrs. Emily Crawford, Reidsville, Ga., writes: "After trying Brown's Iron Bitters, we are persuaded that it is all that it claims to be—a good and reliable tonic." Thousands of others speak in like manner.

THE TRIP ON WHEELS.

The Run to Logan Aboard the Silent Steed.

EXPERIENCES OF THE S. L. B. C.

An Agreeable Out—The Reception and Treatment of the Boys in the North.

The members of the bicycle club who started for Logan a week ago, some of whose exploits our readers have already heard, rode merrily into town about 9 o'clock Tuesday evening, all feeling in good health and spirits, and each expressing themselves as having had a good time. From one of the number we learn the following facts: Those who left here on wheels were President D. L. Davis, Captain T. O. Angell, Jr., Secretary C. E. Johnson, Sub-Captain Wm. Wood, First Guide Walter Jennings, T. J. Angell, Henry Folland, Lewis Peck, Henry Bassett and T. Sloan. The start was made a little before 5 o'clock, being nearly an hour later than intended. Before the Hot Springs were reached it was found that Mr. Bassett, who is a beginner, would be unable to keep up with the company. He decided to take the train at Wood's Cross, and the company moved on to catch the train at Kaysville, intending to ride thus over the Sand Ridge to Ogden. A Farmington was approached it was feared that Kaysville would not be reached in time, so the main body took it slowly and boarded the train at that place. Captain Angell, Walter Jennings and T. J. Angell pushed ahead and made the ride as originally planned, catching the train by almost the fraction of a minute. Ogden being reached, the company mounted their wheels and rolled up into town. Some repairs being necessary to various members, the respective parties were engaged, and the boys scattered about town, taking in the sights and sounds. Dinner was had at the Central Hotel (a good house), and orders given for assembly at the Co-op corner at 2 o'clock. When the time arrived, quite a crowd had collected to see the start. We were accompanied for some three miles on the journey by Messrs. Griffin and Cushing, who reluctantly returned to town. Nothing of note occurred during the run from Ogden to Brigham City, except that the whole company indulged in a bath at the Hot Springs, the most enjoyable one on the trip. At Willard, the boys were met by the Snow Brothers, of Brigham City, and Mr. Sears, of Ogden (the latter having taken the train to Brigham City, and ridden the wheel back to Willard). A refreshing drink of milk and a bucketful of nice apples having been dispatched, the cavalry moved on very rapidly, the roads being the best yet encountered. Arrived at Brigham City the company all went straightway to the City Hotel, had an excellent supper, and were then invited to spend the evening with the Mr. S. Snow, which was very pleasant indeed. It was near 7 o'clock next morning before a start was made. Mr. Sears and one of the Messrs. Snow accompanying. Frequent stops were made on the road, wherever an inviting apple orchard, melon patch, or Old Oaken Bucket was discovered. Messrs. Sears, Bassett, and Sloan being somewhat the worse for wear, boarded the train at Honeyville.

Dinner, a good one, was prepared by some of Brother Hansen's fair milkmaids at his dairy (which was once the Brigham City Co-op dairy). A rest of over two hours was taken here, and the mysteries of cheese-making fully explained by the genial proprietor. Prospects from here to the summit was quite slow, but time was soon regained on the down grades. Arrived at the forks of the road, several of the party rode by way of Mendon to pick up those who had boarded the train at Honeyville. The balance took the road straight across for Logan, arrangements having been made for the latter to await the former at the bridge. When all had arrived and a cooling bath in the river been indulged in, the whole party moved forward together, arriving in Logan about 8 o'clock, meeting Messrs. F. G. Brooks and T. H. Cartwright, who had accompanied the excursion party. The main body of the company took rooms at the Cache Valley House, those having relatives and friends going to their respective ways. A run about town next morning in full uniform caused the boys to be "observed of all observers," and favorably commented upon by the local scribbler. Riding to the depot grounds, Messrs. Wood and Jennings amused the crowd with a short exhibition of trick-riding. A ball having been arranged by some of the Logan boys, the evening was spent in tripping the light fantastic to music that was so any too entrancing. Blithe Wood, with his two handsome gold medals was the centre of attraction of the fair sex, and was immediately and unanimously appointed as "dude of the gang." Mr. Brooks having previously been elected master, Mr. Theo. Angell, funny man, Mr. Johnson as horn setter, Mr. Sears as chaplain and one of the milkmaids as apples. (This was when all the others got left, there not being offices enough to go around). After the ball was over, a party of a dozen started off for a prairie chicken hunt, being destructive of reaching the scene of carnage very early in the morning. This party returned next evening, having had a good time, and obtained a goodly number of birds. Sunday was spent in visiting friends and acquaintances, and "taking in the town" generally. At 6:30 next morning, seven of the party rolled out homeward, five being left, having business of various kinds to attend to, who met the others at Collifont, having taken train to that point. From there, all rolled forward together, taking dinner in Honeyville, and pushing on to Brigham City, where a very pleasant evening was given in honor at the residence of Mr. Ed. Pierce. A very early start was made next morning, breakfast having been ordered at Willard City. From there to Ogden considerable fast riding was indulged in, the object being to catch the 9:30 train. Arriving five minutes too late, the boys were kindly permitted by Esop Sharp to stack machines on the tender and ride in the director's car about ready to start.

Arriving at Farmington the bicycles were again brought into use, and the run home made, without any further item of note, except that the company were invited to dinner with Bishop Chase, a meal to which they did ample justice. The funny man here struck a taste of gall and wormwood in the shape of a bee-sting on the ear. "He never smiled again," taken altogether, the trip was one of genuine pleasure to all participants.

Lively Times on Second South. Second South Street was the scene of a lively scrimmage yesterday morning, between a well-known clothier and an ex-employee, named Benjamin, who had been carrying on a high-handed game east and west on the strength of the business reputation of the gentleman in question. Benjamin returned to the city a few days ago, asked forgiveness from the merchant, which was granted, and on the delinquent promising to make good the discrepancies, he was provided by the clothier with a place to sleep. Not being as grateful for the treatment as common humanity would suggest, he roundly abused his benefactor during his absence. This coming to the merchant's ears, he met Benjamin on the corner of Second South and Main streets early yesterday morning, and the altercation ensued, resulting in a badly battered nose and a few scratches for Benjamin.

The assailant was arrested, and fined $10 for battery.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

The Strength of the Local Organization.

NO NEWS FROM HEADQUARTERS

The Views of a Prominent Knight in the Prospective Trouble With the Wabash.

Among the telegrams published in THE HERALD yesterday was the following, in reference to the threatened strike on the Wabash road:

OFFICE SECRETARY AND TREASURER, ST. LOUIS, MO., AUGUST 18, 1885. To all whom it may concern, (meeting)

Owing to the persistent fight of Wabash Company against the Knights of Labor, the General Executive Board deem it advisable to issue the following order to all assemblies on the Union Pacific Railway and Gould's southern system:

To all assemblies on above lines of railway: All Knights of Labor in employ of the Union Pacific, and its branches, and Gould's southern system or any other railroad must refuse to repair or handle in any way Wabash rolling stock until further orders from the General Executive Board, and if this order is antedated by the company through any of its officials, your executive committee is hereby ordered to call out all Knights of Labor on the above named system without further order.

By order of the General Executive Board, FREDERICK TURNER, Gen'l Sec'y and Treasurer.

With a view to determining just what effect this order would have upon the local organization of the Knights of Labor a Herald reporter yesterday called upon Mr. Duckworth, master workman, and in the conversation that ensued Mr. D. said the part of the order referring to the "Union Pacific and its branches" was "probably in error."

"There is little doubt," said the gentleman, "but that the Missouri Pacific is the road meant."

"Have you received any intimation that the Knights here will be asked to join the strikers?"

"I have heard nothing about it, save what I read in THE HERALD this morning," was the reply.

"If any such order had been issued, you would possibly know of it," suggested the name of news.

"I most certainly should. I do not believe, however, that the strike will extend this far, if it should occur."

Later in the day the writer interviewed a prominent member of the Knights of Labor in Salt Lake, and from him it was learned that the organization here is but little more than seven months old.

Q.—About how many members has the local organization?

A.—"Somewhere between 250 and 300."

Q.—Ogden has more than that number, I believe?

A.—"Yes, there cannot be less than 300 Knights in that city."

Q.—How far does the influence of the order extend?

A.—"All over the Union. At the latest census, taken about six months ago, there were over 700,000 members of our order in the United States. During the time intervening between then and now fifty or sixty new assemblies have been organized, and are now in working order, and I believe it will not be a great while before there will be 1,000,000 Knights of Labor scattered throughout the various cities and towns in the United States."

Q.—The majority of the employees of the D. & R. G. are members, are they not?

A.—"Yes, the Union Pacific also has in its employ about 5,000; the Utah Central has but few comparatively."

Q.—What is your opinion of the recent charges made against the Knights of Labor in Denver, in regard to dynamite and other outrages?

A.—"I do not believe they were committed by the Knights of Labor, or at least with the consent or knowledge of the organization. One of the principles of the order to which we are sworn to adhere, is that we shall protect property, instead of destroying it. Of course, like any other society, bad men will sometimes creep in, no matter how much trouble is taken to keep them out; the outrages may have been committed by members of the organization, but if so, it must have been entirely on their own account, and could not have been authorized by the organization."

Q.—About what will be the effect of the threatened Wabash strike if it does occur?

A.—"It will undoubtedly be the biggest affair of the kind ever seen in the United States."

Mr. E. Dickinson, Assistant General Superintendent of the Union Pacific, whose headquarters are at Denver, was asked by a reporter what he knew of the Knights and their strength on his road. "I don't know much about them," he said. "Of our 15,000 employees, perhaps two-thirds belong to the Knights, and they don't do much except to make it devilish lively for me. You needn't put that in the paper, however, came too late. In Denver, Mr. Dickinson said, the Knights counted themselves 1,500 strong, but in the parade on the day of Grant's funeral, they only turned out 250 men—470 counting the Carpenters Union."
